What are autoflowering seeds?

Raoul - 2017-04-07 - in Product & Growing

Autoflowering seeds provide an easy and rewarding harvest of high quality cannabis without the need for a change in light cycle. Grown outdoors, these varieties can produce two or more harvests in the course of a normal summer. Under lights, they are capable of going from seedling to full maturity in ten weeks.

It is ideal for gardeners with limited space, time or energy (such as medicinal cannabis users) the feminized autoflowering strains available from Nirvana Shop are excellent choices for any gardener.
